

Diagnosis And Treatment Expansion Urged

Establishment in Illinois of state-wide facilities for the medical (not just psychiatric) diagnosis of criminal defendants, the creation of a State Code Department of Corrections, and giving police the authority to take a person believed in need of mental treatment to a mental health facility for emergency examination are three principal recommendations for immediate legislative action made to Governor Richard Ogilvie and members of the 76th General Assembly.

In its report, released Jan. 20, the Council on the Diagnosis and Evaluation of Criminal Defendants, established by the legislature, also suggested programs which could help divert cases with mental health and social problems out of the criminal justice system into appropriate treatment.

In its one year of existence, the Council was unable to complete its assignment to produce a comprehensive program for development of complete diagnostic and treatment services for law violators.

Among the topics recommended for further study and later recommendations are the need for state-wide probation services to provide pre-sentence reports to courts and community supervision of persons convicted of violations of the law; the organization and responsibilities of the Parole Board; and the establishment of a State Commission on Police Standards to provide leadership to local police administrations in the development of personnel standards plus technical consultation to local agencies in the development of more effective methods and programs.

It also recommends the further study of the relationship between State and local correctional programs, and between the State Department of Corrections and the State Department of Mental Health regarding the respective responsibilities of the care of mentally ill convicted persons.

Council Chairman Judge Joseph Schneider, Magistrate of Circuit Court of Cook County in transmitting the report said, "Effective law enforcement and the administration of justice requires the use of all available knowledge. This report attempts to point out the ways in which the law and the behavioral sciences can and must constructively work together to achieve a common goal."

The Council also supported various administrative programs to divert persons away from the criminal justice system into other treatment channels.

It recommends the establishment of detoxification services to which police could refer drunks instead of referring them to court; the development of police specialists who could make appropriate referrals to health and welfare agencies of persons involved in domestic discord or whose offense involves unacceptable social behavior more than criminal actions; and the expansion of the program of half-way houses, work release centers, and pre-release centers.

The medical diagnostic service recommended for immediate legislative action would be available primarily to courts, but could be utilized by other agencies such as the police, State Attorneys, defense counsel, and probation departments.

In Cook County the Circuit Court is provided with diagnostic reports by the Psychiatric Institute and the Cook County Behavior Clinic. Downstate courts have no comparable services. These agencies would be absorbed in a new State facility, according to the Council's proposal, which would be under State authority but administered on a decentralized basis.

It also would be State financed, enabling each County to utilize services comparable to those which now cost Cook County some $500,000 annually. The Council recommends that it be administered by the State Department of Corrections.

The establishment of a State Department of Corrections to succeed the present Department of Public Safety had been recommended by Governor Ogilvie and by other groups such as the Council on State Government in Illinois, the John Howard Association, the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago and others.

A State Department of Law Enforcement with responsibility for non-correctional programs now administered by the Department of Public Safety would be established at the same time.

Police make a diagnosis of sorts as to whether a person is believed to be in need of mental treatment. Under present procedures, if police feel a person needs mental treatment they charge him with an ordinance violation and hold him in the County Jail until the Court can order an examination.

This often is inhuman and unsuitable treatment of the individual, places a burden on the County Jail which is not equipped to deal with such persons; and clogs up court dockets unnecessarily.

The Council feels it would be much preferable to give police the authority to take a person to a mental health facility where a psychiatrist would examine him, decide whether mental treatment is indicated and initiate proper referral procedures for care.

The Council, authorized by the legislature, was appointed in January, 1968 to formulate "a comprehensive plan for the development, through the utilization of all resources, public and

Antioch Auxiliary Honored By Society

The Antioch Auxiliary of the Lake County Mental Health Society, headed by Mrs. Edmund Vos, of Antioch, was honored last week by the Lake County Mental Health Society.

The auxiliary won its award at a dinner meeting held at the Illinois Beach State Park Lodge. It was in recognition of the auxiliary's contributions to the Lake County Mental Health Society and its concern for the mentally ill in the county.

The auxiliary has contributed more than $12,000 to the society from funds raised in operation of a thrift shop and three annual cotillions.

The auxiliary also provides space for the Antioch Mental Health clinic, staffed by one psychiatric social worker one day per week throughout the year.

Awards were also conferred on three members of the society in recognition of their individual concern. They included Dr. Edward E. DeLong, chief of staff of the Psychiatric Section of St. Therese Hospital, Fred P. Veith of the YMCA staff, and Mrs. Melvin Amstutz, executive secretary of the Waukegan Council of Churches.

The occasion was the 16th annual dinner meeting of the society.

Street Resurfacing

In other action Mayor Raymond Toft directed village engineer Frank Angelotti to check with the state about the resurfacing of Lake Street between Rte. 83 and Rte. 173.

The state is responsible for the street and its share of any resurfacing of the thoroughfare would be considerable.

Toft also asked if the sewer line should be replaced before any resurfacing is done.

The engineer pointed out that he would rather see the village rod the present sewer and put the surface down because there were better uses for the money than a new sewer on Lake Street.

He suggested, instead, that the village should be looking toward running a sewer from Hillside to Depot via Orchard and Turner Drive.

The board then talked considerably on sewer expansion and finally Toft asked the engineer to come up with plans that would do away with the Spafford Street lift station and extension of the sewer on Hillside to Harden St.

INTEREST WINDFALL

Village Attorney Edward C. Jacobs then pointed out to the board that it should transfer $296 from the sewer and water account to the special assessment fund.

Jacobs said that the necessity

Burglars Get $1,000 At Lorenz'

Burglars broke into Lorenz's Smart Country House early Monday and escaped with about $1,000.

Sheriff's investigator Maurice Butler said that the burglar alarm went off in the home occupied by Mrs. Gertrude Lorenz and she called Antioch police.

Pt. M. Harold Mason and David Vos rushed to the scene and surprised the burglars in the building. They fled, dropping some of the loot. At least three burglars were in the gang, police said.

While Mason stayed at the scene, Pt. M. Vos went after an auto that had been in the vicinity of the restaurant and arrested Willie Beasley, 24, of Kenosha.

Beasley refused to talk about the burglary but police found that he was wanted on an unlawful use of weapons charge. He was later freed on bond.

Sheriff's investigator Maurice Butler said some tools found in the restaurant at Rte. 173 west of Rte. 59 were sent to the crime laboratory for a fingerprint check.

The fishing derby held recently drew a record crowd to the lakes region. Here was a typical scene as ice anglers pulled in the big ones. (See story on winners on Sports Page.)

Lake County Courts Has Little Backlog

Chief Circuit Judge LaVerne A. Dixon told those attending a "Press Day" program in the county administration building last Thursday there is no backlog of cases in Lake County.

Presenting figures for the 1968 fiscal year, Judge Dixon said of the 53,290 cases filed over 51,500 were terminated. There are 91 cases set for the February call.

By far, traffic cases led the list of offenses brought before the courts, 40,565. There were 3,233 misdemeanor cases and 2,910 small claims, all handled through the magistrate division.

Of the 33 criminal felony cases tried juries returned verdicts of guilty in 17 and not guilty in the other 16.

One important aspect of the presentation, Judge Dixon said, is that the courts are paying their own way. Circuit Clerk Stephanie Sullin reported turning over $335,050 to the county. This is based on fees brought in through her office.

Another panelist during the first portion of the program was County Clerk Truman G. Gerret-sen. He reviewed the statutory requirements of his office, and brought to light some of the little known facts on vital statistics.

Gerretsen said Lake County probably issues more marriage licenses than almost any other

Congratulations

The Antioch Auxiliary of the Lake County Mental Health Society has recently been honored by the parent organization.

We, in turn, would like to add our congratulations to this wonderful group of ladies who give so unselfishly of their time and efforts.

The award is all the more prized by the fact that it was given by those who really know the work that these ladies have done.

The Auxiliary, led by Mrs. Edmund Vos, has contributed more than $12,000 to the society through the operation of its Thrift Shop and through dances held throughout the year.

But just those bare statements doesn't really tell the story of the time and effort that is given to the projects by the members of the Auxiliary.

They have shown that they are concerned with the welfare of others throughout the county and have taken it upon themselves to do something about it.

Far too often these days we find those who could do something but "don't want to get involved."

Such is not the case with the members of the Antioch Auxiliary.

They have proved, time and time again, that they do want to get involved.

We take our hats off to the ladies of the Auxiliary.

And we wish them every success in their future endeavors.

Let Them Stand

We are somewhat perplexed by the recent order of the Illinois Supreme Court that has relieved the recent judge appointments of Gov. Samuel Shapiro of their duties and stopped their pay from the state.

This happened, we are told, because of a challenge of the appointment of 11 judges by Shapiro, which has been filed before the high court.

The appointments were a parting gesture by an outgoing governor and we are wondering if he had been a Republican instead of a Democrat if the same thing would have happened.

To our knowledge the appointments are made by the governor when there are vacancies.

Unless we are mistaken, Shapiro was still governor when he made the appointments.

Unless we are again mistaken, no matter who was governor he would have had the same right to make appointments as long as he was in office, albeit that it was his last act before leaving.

It might be a bitter pill for the opposition party—whichever it may be—to swallow, but we fail to see any alternative except to swallow it.

It is kind of ludicrous that the judges in Cook County will continue to get their $9,000 annual spend from the county, but can't collect their salary from the state while the litigation is going on.

We see that former State Rep. Jack Cassidy, D-Peoria, has been hired to represent the judges in their quest to remain on the bench.

We know Jack Cassidy and he knows Constitutional Law. Before this is over the opposition to the appointments is going to have the fight of his life on his hands.

We don't care who the former governor appointed but for precedent's sake we feel that the appointments should stand.

So, go to it Jack.

Letters to the Editor

In the past year, parents of Chicago-area public and parochial school students have been faced with increasing indoctrination of our children in their school and church environments, and to graduate schemes to change the course of public education from the neighborhood school teaching a basic foundation in the 3 R's to the 20,000 child complexes specializing in "group-adaptation."

Correspondence from other cities has indicated that this is not a local problem, but that compulsory Sex Education, Sensitivity Training, group-adjustment, revised text materials, psychological testing, and disparagement of national Patriotism are the same throughout our great nation.

Accordingly, it appears to us that while we must continue to fight for our children on a local level, it is becoming imperative that a concerted effort be made to organize for state and national battle.

The grand push—with federal assistance—for compulsory Sex education of a type and variety offensive to most parents has been documented in national news media. It is not enough to say "We won't get it." Unless you fight, you have no choice.

In Illinois the radius of involvement in Sex-Ed (politely called "Family Life Education") has spread from Chicago to as far west as Aurora and as far south as Lockport—that we know of. The diameter of the circle will ever widen and if it is to be effectively combatted the knowledge and the facts must be available BEFORE the program.

It is our hope that readers of this column will contact us and join with other Illinois parents, and those from across the land, to pool the efforts, experiences and materials we have available, to assist each other and enlarge our understanding of the scope of the battle we face.

Our children are at stake—and the education of today will determine the future of our State—and of our nation.

Mrs. Albert Westerfield

Dear Editor:

As President of the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan, let me express our board's thanks for the support you and your fine newspaper have given to our program during all of 1968.

Your paper has done much to inform its readers of the continuing need for blood and the advantages of donating to become a member in Chicago's own non-profit, civic blood replacement plan. Our program has provided the kind of incentive that donors have responded to since more than 50,000 members have joined over the twelve years of our operation as a cooperative blood program for Chicago's 53 member hospitals and blood banks.

To those who join, it is assuring to know that a one pint donation—at any of our member hospitals or blood banks—can offer unlimited free blood replacement at any hospital anywhere, anytime a blood need occurs during the membership period of one year for a family, two years for a husband and wife, or four years for an individual. We value our donor members. Because they have made our program so successful in helping to meet Chicago's blood needs, we also welcome as members those who cannot donate but who will provide a proxy donor. This makes our program available to any person or family that wants protection against their own blood needs.

Giving blood is always a personal thing, therefore we appreciate all of the personal efforts—yours and others—that have made our program successful.

Thank you for your past support. May we continue to merit your help in 1969 to urge Chicago's citizens to give blood to save lives, and to serve themselves by joining the Cooperative Blood Replacement Plan.

Sincerely,
Frank E. Trobaugh, Jr., M.D.
President

Reports

By Cong. Robert McClary
YOUR CONG. REPORTS

The Department of Defense has tentatively decided to locate an anti-ballistic missile site in the 12th Congressional District—about five miles south of Libertyville.

While most of the 250 acres which the missile site will occupy was used, until recently, as a "Nike" missile base, the impending deployment of the more sophisticated "sentinel" missile system at this location has caused justifiable concern to residents in the surrounding and nearby areas.

The government's most knowledgeable civilian and military experts have given assurances that the nuclear warheads with which the defensive missiles will be armed are incapable of being detonated except at great distances from the ABM site itself. While the details regarding the operation—including the detonation of the defensive ABM system—are classified (secret), no reason has been presented for doubting the accuracy of the Government's assurances. Other "experts" have offered no convincing evidence of danger from a possible "accidental" nuclear explosion. Indeed, in the whole history of nuclear research and development there has never been an accidental nuclear explosion. Still, this does not mean that there could not be some danger from the mere presence of weapons armed with nuclear warheads.

One such danger is that an ABM defense base will be a target for enemy missiles. By zeroing in such an ABM installation, the risks to the nearby communities are increased. However, the military experts claim that this entire metropolitan area of Illinois is already a major target for enemy attack. The purpose of a sentinel ABM system is to provide maximum "defense" against an enemy nuclear attack. If by removing the defense system to a location "remote" from the metropolitan area its effectiveness will be reduced. It would seem most unwise to take such a step. Still, the necessity of locating a permanent anti-ballistic missile site in the heart of a fast growing suburban area must be established conclusively. Evidence that an equally effective job may be performed from a remote area (such as an Iowa corn field) must be weighed carefully.

These and probably other considerations deserve the earnest attention of this and other members of Congress. Indeed, the army plans to establish 15 such "sentinel" missile sites, all of which will require the approval of the Congress. In addition, the ABM site near Libertyville, and several others, will have to be submitted to the entire Congress for approval.

A subject which is not entirely relevant to the immediate controversy is the wisdom of the ABM defense system itself. Some contend that a program of defense against enemy nuclear attack is too expensive or that it revives the arms race.

The war strategy thus far has been to rely exclusively on the deterrent effect of "offensive" nuclear weapons. Our nuclear war plan has contemplated the sacrifice of some 20 to 30 million Americans who might die from the enemy's "first strike"—with the expectation that our retaliatory nuclear "offensive" would completely annihilate the enemy.

While there is no present in-

(Continued from page one) county in the State due to the fact that we are so close to Wisconsin where the requirements are more restrictive. The clerk said an average of 400 marriage licenses are issued here every month.

Gerretsen praised the new system of voter registration and voters list set up through the data processing department. Because the lists are up to date, the clerk says he has no intention of levying a permissive tax allowed by the legislature. Such a tax could bring in between $275,000 and $290,000 per year.

On still another matter, Gerretsen told the newsmen "People in Lake County are paying their taxes." He explained that a state allows tax sales on delinquent properties and told of a case some years ago where a man lost a large estate for failure to pay his bill within the two years allocated.

Six officials, including five county department heads and the State's Attorney appeared on a second panel discussion devoted to "Facing Our Major Problems." Subjects covered were housing, public works, highways, crime, finances and open space.

Following lunch, the newsmen were taken on a tour of the new Lake County jail by Sheriff Harold Scheskie.

The modern facilities incorporate all the latest developments and equipment connected with a maximum security institution. Several innovations by Scheskie: clothing for the prisoners, a revised meal schedule, additional new weapons, procedures for handling inmates, were all explained in detail on the one-and-a-half-hour tour.

Your Congressman..

(Continued from page two) tention to weaken our "offensive" nuclear arms, it has been pointed out convincingly that a "defensively" system against nuclear attack holds forth the hope of repelling an enemy without the necessity of destroying him. It would seem that all those who abhor nuclear arms build-ups should applaud a program such as the sentinel ABM "Defense" systems planned for deployment in 15 sites around the country.

In commenting on the current ABM site controversy, the authoritative Congressional Quarterly concludes:

"Although... land disputes are traditional, they could be blown up by anti-ABM forces in a possible last-ditch attempt to block construction of the system."

It will NOT be this member's plan to block selection of the Libertyville site as a last-ditch effort to throttle a program designed to protect the lives of millions of American citizens. However, insofar as the wisdom of the Libertyville ABM site is concerned, this Member of Congress will demand justification for selection of this location.

The board also passed a resolution commending the action of Ptm. Harold G. Mason and David Vos in answering the burglary call at Lorenz's Smart Country House early Monday.

It was through the efforts of Vos, while Mason stayed at the scene, that one man was arrested, even though sheriff's officers say they cannot put the man at the scene of the crime.

Ten Major Problems In County

Ten major development problems facing Lake County were outlined recently in three separate addresses by Norman Drummond, director of the county's Regional Planning Commission.

In order of importance, as listed by Drummond, they are:

1. Sewers and solid waste disposal for West Lake County
2. Housing
3. Stream pollution
4. Open space and recreation areas
5. Educational facilities on all levels
6. Highways
7. Water
8. Cultural facilities
9. Public transportation
10. Development of Lake Michigan shoreline.

The planning director said in drawing up the list, no consideration was given to total costs involved or whether there is sufficient manpower to attack all problems simultaneously. However, he said it is rather obvious we can not wait ten years, attempting to solve one at a time.

A revision of the county's comprehensive land use plan is being made and is expected to be finished by March of this year. Drummond told his audiences that the comprehensive plan formulated in 1961 was way off on requirements for industry in the 1960's.

One of the important on-going programs of the planning department cited by Drummond was public information to promote good planning and design. "This," he said, "makes the public aware and critical of their environment."

Legislators To Meet With Supervisors

Supervisor Robert J. Dickson, chairman of the County Board legislative committee, has called a meeting with area legislators for Friday, Jan. 24. The conference will be held in the board room on the tenth floor of the administration building starting at 10 a.m.

In his invitation to the eight lawmakers, Dickson said the session is designed to bring about an exchange of ideas between representatives and senators in the General Assembly and those on the county level.

Dickson said, "With an ever-increasing population, we must deal with a shortage of housing; inadequate sewer and water facilities; stream pollution; we must attempt to provide open space for recreation; more and better roads; and a program for planned future."

The legislative conference will be attended by members of the County Board of Supervisors and elected County officials.

Earnings Determine Filing

The key factor in determining whether you have to file a Federal income tax return is the amount of your income, E. C. Coyle, Jr., Chicago's District Director of Internal Revenue Service, said today.

Anyone under 65 years of age who has gross income of $600 or more for the year is required to file a return. This requirement applies to minors, students, single and married alike.

If you are 65 or older on the last day of your tax year, no return is required unless your gross income was $1,200 or more. Even if your income is under these limits you should file a return to obtain a refund of any income tax withheld from your salaries or wages.

Businessmen, farmers, and other self-employed persons must file a return if their net earnings from self-employment were $400 or more.

Publication 528, "Information on Filing Your Tax Return," furnishes more detailed information. Drop a post card to District Director, Tax Forms, P.O. Box 1193, Chicago, Illinois 60690.

The plaque reads in part, "For making the community more attractive and thereby adding to the stature of the city and the pleasure of its citizens."

Former land acquisition committee chairman E. Kenny Harlan received the plaque and presented it to the full commission during the meeting.

Jr. College Moves To Accreditation

The College of Lake County took its initial step toward achieving accreditation from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools recently, by submitting a formal application for "Correspondence Status" to the North Central Association office in Chicago.

The application was accompanied by an Institutional Analysis Report which covered the history and development of the College, the philosophy and objectives of the institution, a description of the geographical area served, the proposed curriculum, admission standards, a description of the site, proposed facilities, institutional organization, and the sources of operational and building income.

The College of Lake County has been notified by the Association that an examiner will be assigned in February to assess the newly-founded institution's potential to realize its educational objectives.

Representatives of North Central Association will assist in the development of the institution with regard to staffing, policy formation, educational offerings and facilities planning.

Achieving "Correspondence Status" (the first step in accreditation) will eliminate the concern of students regarding the transferability of credits to other colleges and universities.

In addition, the College becomes eligible for participation in a variety of federal programs. Final accreditation may be given by the Association after a minimum three-year waiting period during which time the Association will examine the progress of the College of Lake County in expanding its programs, improving the quality of instruction, and developing a site and facilities.

The first liability policy to be written in America on an automobile was issued in 1896 to Gilbert J. Loomis of Westfield, N. J., according to the Insurance Information Institute.

The Lake Villa youths, nominated by Congressman Robert McClary, R-Lake Bluff, will compete with eight others from the 12th District for the one appointment to the Naval Academy.

Benefit Hike With No Increase

Robert M. Redinger, chief executive officer of the Blue Cross Plan of Hospital Service Corporation and the Blue Shield Plan of Illinois Medical Service, today announced an increase in benefits with no rate increase for members enrolled in the Blue Cross 65 and Blue Shield Medicare supplementary program.

Redinger said this benefit increase affects the 172,000 Blue Cross and Blue Shield members in Illinois who are over 65 with contracts supplementing their regular Medicare coverage.

The federal government recently announced that beginning Jan. 1, 1969, Medicare recipients will be responsible for the first $44 of their hospital bill instead of the present $40 deductible. In addition, all other co-insurance payments under Part A—the hospital portion of the Medicare program—will be increased by 10 per cent on that date.

Redinger said that Blue Cross 65 and Blue Shield 65 members will automatically have their coverage increased to absorb these higher out-of-pocket expenses.

Effective Jan. 1, Blue Cross 65 and Blue Shield 65 benefits will be expanded to cover the following Medicare Part A changes:

—The deductible for each spell of illness is increased from the current $40 to $44;

—The co-insurance charge from the 61st through the 90th day of hospitalization is increased from $10 to $11 per day;

—The co-insurance charge during the 60 lifetime reserve days of hospitalization increases from $20 to $22 per day; and —The co-insurance charge during the 100 day benefit period in extended care facilities increases from $5.00 to $5.50 per day.

Assistance Program To 153,000

Nearly 153,000 persons in Illinois received food assistance through the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamp Program during November, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest district director of Consumer Food Programs.

The total included 138,602 on public aid and 14,158 non-public aid recipients. This is a one percent increase over October participation.

During November participants in 67 Illinois projects purchased more than $2.1 million in coupons and received bonus coupons worth nearly $34,000. This is a bonus average of $5.46 per person.

In 391 Midwest projects, nearly 676,000 persons were in the program during November. Total value of coupons received $13 million of which 32 percent was in bonus coupons. The district bonus average was $6.10 per person.

By participating in the Food Stamp Program, low-income families can buy more food by exchanging the amount of money they normally spend on food for coupons worth more than they paid.

Recipients spend food coupons just like cash at authorized retail food stores for any domestic food. They cannot purchase items like household cleansers, tobacco or liquor.

Doyle urges families not getting enough food to look into the Program by contacting the local public aid office.

Automobile Show Set For March 8

Since the turn of the century Chicago Automobile Shows have served a hard core of utilitarian purpose for both industry and the car buyer and this year it is preparing to perform that double duty more effectively than ever.

The 61st renewal of the world-famed classic, to be held March 8-16 in the International Amphitheatre, will show the car buyer everything available in the modern automotive field. And, it will serve as a proving ground for the car builder to display new styling ideas and engineering innovations.

The show will offer the potential customer the opportunity of viewing all of the 1969 cars for the purpose of comparison. At least one model of every American made car line will be included in the more than 450 vehicles on display. There will also be the largest array of import cars ever staged under one roof in Chicago.

Spurred by soaring sales, several of the overseas firms requested extra exhibition space and a number of imports, never previously exhibited in Chicago, have taken space. These include the Subaru, made in Japan and the NSU, which is built in West Germany.

Every effort has been extended to make car-shopping a pleasurable experience. There will be more than a half million square feet of exposition space in the three huge Amphitheatre halls. There are wide aisles and adequate room in each display area so that visitors may move around easily and examine the vehicles from every angle.

The Show is styles to be of interest to every member of the family—an enjoyable way for all to spend an afternoon or evening. There are many auto-related exhibits and entertainment features planned to lure visitors into each display area. Games with prizes are offered and a number of celebrities are hooked to make personal appearances.

One of the highlights is the popular "Motorevue of 1969," an hour-long musical stage show which stars a pageant of new cars. This is presented twice daily in the 8,000-seat arena area at no additional admission charge. In Donovan Hall, the southern-most exposition room in the Amphitheatre chain, a number of special features are planned including an array of racing cars and demonstrations by the Police Department's Canine Corps.

Traditionally, a number of manufacturers have used the Chicago Show as a stage upon which to introduce new models. Usually, the builders prefer not to release information on the new cars, but instead unveil them in surprise fanfare at the show opening. Last year Lincoln-Mercury Division introduced its exciting Continental Mark III, American Motors its sporty AMX and a number of foreign-made models were shown to the motoring public for the first time.

Dream cars, or styling concepts, always a popular attraction at the Chicago Show, again will vie for top visitor appeal. At this writing, word has been received to indicate that a dozen or so of these cars will be spotlighted in the various division exhibit areas.

Richard V. Lynch, President of the show-sponsoring Chicago Automobile Trade Association, points out that a number of these way-out cars, while startling in appearance, may well contain engineering features which will be regular equipment on production cars of the near future.

"Besides being excellent attractions, these cars serve a definite purpose," Lynch said. "This is the industry's method of testing public reaction to their styling ideas and new comfort and convenience items. This is actually the manner in which much of the equipment, both optional and standard, found its way into use in today's automobiles."

The Chevrolet, Dodge and Ford divisions, and the American Motors Corp., have announced they will display styling concepts at the show and will release information on the vehicles shortly before the show opens.

William S. Mougey, Show Chairman, reports that all plans are proceeding smoothly towards the presentation of a most spectacular event, perhaps the best and most complete of any in the long line of Chicago Show successes. Last year a record crowd of 653,120 saw the show at the Amphitheatre and Mougey believes that mark could be surpassed this year. He said:

"We have all the necessary ingredients for a big and highly successful show—beautiful cars, exciting displays, intriguing auto-related exhibits, everything one could want to see at an auto show and more. We also have a huge showcase in which to display them. Good weather, of course, is always a factor, but in the past even zero temperatures and snow storms failed to keep the car lovers from our show. With any reasonable cooperation from the weather man, I believe we will easily top last year's record attendance."

Mougey said the show hours would be the same as last year—11 a.m. to 11 p.m. every day.

ACHS Staff Members Go to Conventions

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education has a policy of allowing its staff to attend a local, state or national convention that is concerned with their area of interest and also pays the staff members' expenses to this convention.

Most staff members attend one of these conventions each year to stay abreast of current trends, materials and techniques in their particular area of specialization.

Before the holiday break, several of the faculty had already attended conferences for this school year.

Among those were Arthur Bleckie who attended the two day State Deans Association Meeting at Bloomington, Ill.; Mrs. Jane Craner who spent three days in Chicago at the Illinois Art Education Association; Richard Elliston traveled to St. Louis for the National Meeting of the Central Association of Science and Math Teachers; Miss Barbara Balsamello and Mrs. Mary Seemann attended the Illinois Speech Association Convention in Chicago; Miss Dora Beattie went to Springfield for the Illinois Business Education Association Fall conference; Lucien McLean traveled to the Third Annual Afro-American Relation Conference at Champaign, Ill., for three days; The National Council for the Social Studies in Washington, D.C., drew David McCarthy's attendance for two days; and Bernard Fosmark went to Milwaukee, Wis., for the National Conference for English Department Chairmen.

The Deans Conference attended by Bleckie indicated the growing trend toward the establishment of an adjustment room for the purpose of in-school suspensions for disciplinary cases as well as isolation of students whose appearance or behavior was detrimental to the education of the majority of students. In this manner, recalcitrant students would not be denied the educational facilities of the school.

Mrs. Craner was impressed with the tour of the Frank Lloyd Wright homes and the African Art slide presentation.

Miss Balsamello indicated new techniques were presented concerning theatre productions for schools and with methods of handling disadvantaged children in a creative dramatics course of study. Mrs. Seemann learned about a new method of debating for high school students called the cross examination debate.

Miss Beattie was impressed with varied techniques and materials and the direction the Business Education is taking for the future.

McLean indicated the increased emphasis upon the use of student participation in planning curriculum, the importance of contemporary literature and the necessity of the educational hierarchy listening to new voices and anticipating problems so that action can be taken before the problems grow out of proportion.

McCarthy enjoyed particularly a lecture by Dr. Charles Schultz, former Director of the Budget under President Johnson, concerning economic growth in the United States and its relation to full employment. The two most informative tours he took were those centered on the Capitol Building and Arlington National Cemetery.

Fosmark was most impressed by how the Antioch Community High School English department compared very favorably with other English departments in the United States.

GOOD CITIZENS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

Citizenship involves more than casting a ballot, attending a civic club meeting, and obeying the law.

Citizenship means wholehearted, day-to-day support of both government and the civic and philanthropic agencies which work for community improvement.

(name of agency or project) benefits your community and—directly or indirectly—benefits you and yours. And your help is appreciated, needed and deserved.

Help, won't you?

The Chicago Motor Club AAA's recommendations for starting your car in cold weather: Push the gas pedal all the way to the floor and release it half way. Don't grind the starter more than 30 seconds. Make repeated attempts, allowing 30 to 45 seconds between tries.

If the engine floods, shut off the ignition, push the pedal to the floor again and hold it there for a minute. Then, with the pedal still on the floor, turn the starter.

This procedure allows any excess gasoline to drain through the manifold. Enough fuel usually remains to give you a proper start. Warm your engine at an idle. Never race a cold engine, because rapid action of internal parts before lubricants are flowing freely will put severe wear on parts. But even these recommended techniques may not work if your car is not kept tuned and your battery is not properly charged. A good battery is essential for winter driving. According to the manufacturers, a new, fully charged battery has only 60 per cent of its power at 32 degrees,

County Okays Insurance For Workers

A paid life insurance program for all county employees was approved by the Board of Supervisors at its regular January meeting. The policy, with LaFayette Life Insurance Company, provides for four classifications.

Class I employees, those earning $10,000 and over, will receive a policy worth $10,000; Class II, those earning between $5,000 and $10,000, a $5,000 policy; Class III, earning between $2,500 and $5,000 will get a $3,000 policy; and Class IV, employees 65 years of age, would be eligible for a policy worth half the amount of their salary range.

This is the first time that a group life insurance plan of this type has been offered county employees. Though the premium is paid for regular employees, supervisors who wish to participate will have to pay half the premium.

County Board Chairman Robert W. Depke, Finance Committee Chairman Lloyd Murrie, and representative from the insurance firm officially signed the papers January 15th, with the policy to take effect immediately.

Dwight A. Magalis was appointed to head the data processing department. He succeeds Lee Roy Dixon who resigned this month to enter private industry. Magalis has been with the county since 1965.

No action was taken on providing for the appointment of a county purchasing agent. This matter was not brought before the Board since applicants for the post are still being screened.

County Auditor John Darrow was named coordinator between the county and Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., in connection with implementation of centralized accounting.

A pre-annexation agreement with the Village of Libertyville was approved whereby county-owned property, including the county home, radio station, and highway department, will be taken into the village. However, the county will not be bound by village zoning.

Lake Villa May Sue Owners Of A Motel

Lake Villa village attorney Robert Heilgeist told trustees this week that he is planning on suing a Libertyville resident, reportedly owner of an unfinished motel on Grand Avenue and Rte. 83, which the village wants demolished.

Heilgeist gave the report Monday night and said he had ordered a search of all property liens against the unfinished structure which the village board wants demolished as a hazard.

He did not reveal the name of the Libertyville resident who allegedly owns the structure nor when he plans to file the suit.

In other action the board received notification that the state highway department will install No Parking signs on Grand Avenue in the village.

Trustees also approved a request by the Girl Scouts of the Lakeview Council to solicit cookie orders from Feb. 21 to March 7.

Ice Thaw Deceiving Klebe Says

"Whether it is a January or February thaw, during the deep freeze we all must go through annually," Jerry Klebe, Executive Director of the Lake County Safety Commission warned today, as he asked drivers to remember that, as the temperature goes up and the snow and ice melts, or the streets temporarily thaw out, slick pavements are actually more dangerous when braking is required than in the sub-zero temperatures.

The Director pointed out that patches of ice produced by ice freeze-thaw weather spring fatal traps on unwary drivers. "Watch those shady spots; don't be surprised to find frost on bridges and over-passes, and resist that spring-like urge to resume dry-pavement speed before you have made sure the pavement is really dry," Klebe cautioned.

Turner Again Leads Tavern Proprietors

Sequoits Lose Thriller To Warren Blue Devils

Last Friday evening the Antioch Sequoits lost a heartbreaker to the Warren Blue Devils 73-71. After taking an early 11-8 lead, the Sequoits were out-hustled and out-rebounded by the very aggressive play of the Blue Devils. The first quarter ended with Warren nursing a slim 19-16 lead.

At the start of the second quarter, Warren moved out to a 25-16 lead as they scored the first 6 points of the quarter. At this point the Sequoits received a spark from Steve Owens as he hit the boards and scored 3 quick baskets and a free shot by Jim Shore narrowed the gap to 25-23 with 4:24 left in the quarter.

At this point the Sequoits really played hapless basketball—the team didn't move offensively for good shots, and failed to come up with some loose balls, that they should have obtained—general lack of good, aggressive basketball. Because of this complacency the team was in a real spot at half time, 41-27.

During the third quarter the Sequoits showed signs of coming out of their slump as they started to move more offensively, playing more aggressive defense, but still they could only cut the lead by 2 points, trailing 59-47 at the end of the 3 quarter mark.

At the outset of the fourth quarter Warren tallied 3 points to take a 15 point lead with 7:40 left on the clock. At this point the Sequoits finally came to life. Dave Camp and Keith Bolton took care of the scoring, the rest of the team took care of rebounds and the entire team became very aggressive on defense.

With 4:43 on the clock the lead had been cut to six points, 64-58. In the next three minutes, the Sequoits lost a point and at 1:23 the score stood 69-62.

At this point Camp was fouled; he scored on both free attempts for 69-64 score. On the throw in, Jim Carlson made a steal and was fouled. He too made both free throws for a three point deficit 69-66.

The Sequoits came up with the ball again and on a rebound Bolton was fouled. He too made both free throws and the Sequoits trailed 69-68 with 4 seconds remaining. On the throw in the Sequoits fouled and Warren cashed one free throw to make the score 70-68.

With 25 seconds remaining, Sterbenz was fouled, sinking the first—the score read 70-69 Warren in front. On the miss of the second attempt, the Sequoits had 3 good shot attempts, but missed and Warren finally came up with the ball. They were fouled and scored both free throws for a 72-69 lead with 11 seconds left.

Bolton then scored a basket, but as time ran out Warren again scored a free throw for a 73-71 exciting victory.

Top rebounders for Antioch were Bolton with 12, and Shore with 10. For Warren top rebounders were Worcester 15, and Guldau 7. Total rebounds: Antioch 39; Warren 43.

"Both teams played good basketball at times. Warren was extremely aggressive the first half, but in the second half we took the game from them, but just couldn't come up with enough," stated Coach Andrews.

"Our second quarter was what let Warren win. We don't want this type of play. We seem to get in a hole and then try hard to crawl out, but just never quite make it.

"We MUST fight hard and be real aggressive from the start, then we'll be all right," added the Sequoit mentor. Coach Andrews also had praise for the fine improved play of Bolton, Shore and Sterbenz, plus the 100 percent effort of "Spark Plug" Jim Weiss. Jim Carlson came off the bench and made a couple of important plays for us in our late rallies," continued the coach.

The Sequoits' next games are with Round Lake at Round Lake on Friday and then on Saturday, the Sequoits entertain the league leading Lake Forest Scouts.

Ice-Fishing Derby Draws Huge Crowd

Sunny skies and moderating temperatures brought out a crowd of about 3,000 people to join in the fun and contests at the Northern Illinois Conservation Club Ice Derby at Channel Lake Sunday, Jan. 12.

Not all of the crowd were ice-fishing devotees. There was a liberal sprinkling of children and teen-agers, drawn by the excitement and crowd; and many spectators, some of them motorists on Rte. 173 who were moved to stop and investigate the reason for the huge crowd on the lake.

Fishermen had a field day, with prizes given out hourly for the largest fish in each species caught in the preceding hour, and prizes awarded at the end of the day for the three largest fish of each species caught during the day. Numerous other prizes were given out in special contests scheduled about every half-hour.

Mary Ann Payton was crowned Queen of the Ice Derby at about 1 p.m. She was selected the winner from the several contestants entered in the Ice Queen contest.

Here is a list of prize winners in the N.I.C.C. eighth annual Ice Fishing Derby: Men's chisel contest, Tony Bajic, Chicago; Men's Auger contest, Don Blake, McHenry; Women's Auger contest, Isobel Jackson, Orland Park; Children's fishing contest (under 16 years) John Davis, Zion; Ladies Fishing contest, Terry E. Strub, Gurnee; Men's Fishing contest, (first fish caught) Alfred Best, Chicago; Boys' race, Bob Matthews.

Johnson, Antioch, guessed the closest to the weight of a cake of ice, and Jimmy Loveless of Antioch guessed closest to the number of minnows in a jar.

The Boys' Sack race was won by Doug Henderson, North Chicago; Snowmobile races were won by L. Ricks, Kenosha, and Robert Matthews, Lake Villa.

1st Family Snowmobile At Rockford

Hugh Derry, president of the Rockford Speedway, announced today the date and plans for the first Annual Family Snowmobile Open House at the Rockford Speedway, have been set for Sunday, January 26 from 10 a.m. to dark.

Everyone, married, single, adult or child, who already owns a snowmobile, or who has an interest in this fascinating new winter-time fun sport, is invited to attend.

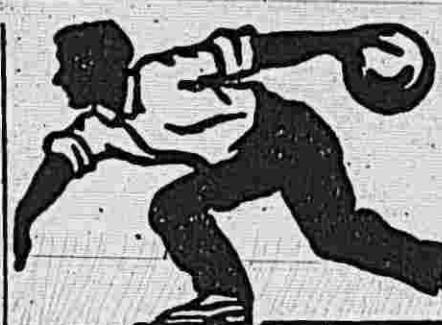

It's all free and it will offer a chance for families to use their snowmobiles on the varied terrain of the Rockford Speedway 30 acre site located at routes 173 and Highway 51. The high-banked speedway will also be available and those who wish to race will be accommodated.

Invitations have been mailed to all the area snowmobile dealers and several will be on hand offering demonstrations to all who attend.

A warming shed will be available and coffee and hot chocolate will be served. Those who wish may come and just watch the activities from the pit area grandstand. Due to main grandstand construction work, only the pit gate entrance will be open.

Derry recently attended snowmobile meets in Soldiers Field in Chicago and the National Meet at Eagle River, Wis., and is anxious to give the northern Illinois snowmobile enthusiasts an opportunity to use their machines and for others to learn about this rapidly expanding winter sport.

Depending upon the amount of interest, he will later announce plans to hold an annual snowmobile meet in February that would grow to be as big as his National Short Track Championship Stock Car Race that annually attracts thousands of fans and the best late model stock car drivers—and champions—from many areas.

McHenry Club Schedules Two Meets

The McHenry Sportsmen's Club has scheduled two shooting treats for shot gun fans, set to come off on successive weekends.

The first of the pair, a prize shoot featuring the new Modified International Trap will take place on Sunday, Jan. 26th at 11 a.m.

All of the club's special events will be fired off on this one, including single, double, triple and quintuple White Bird Shoots, as well as the single winner high score shoots.

In Modified International Trap, the targets leave the trap at the regular unknown angles of 47 degrees to the right and left of center, plus all the angles in between, but at heights varying from four feet above the ground, up to eleven, measured ten yards in front of the trap.

In regular A.T.A. Trap targets are set at a height of between eight and 12 feet, usually nine feet; and they must fall a distance of 50 yards. In Modified Trap the target travels faster and drops 65 yards away.

Two shots may be fired at each target, but at McHenry S.C. shooters squads have the option of firing either one or two shots. In addition, shooters will have their choice of all of these contests on the club's four regular traps. Plus fun-type Annie Oakley and Protection Shoots, all for JoPat tender-aged steaks and chickens.

Then, a special fifty target Jackrabbit Shoot on Sunday, Feb. 2 starting at 12 noon. Purses will be paid to the first three or four places, depending upon the number of entries, and winner of high run from scratch, from handicap.

In this type of contest, 25 targets are shot from 16 yards, and 25 from handicap position.

This is determined by the score made from the closer position. For example, if a shooter breaks 22 targets from 16 yards, he will then shoot his remaining targets from the 22-yard line. Minimum handicap is 20 yards.

Shells and hot snacks will be on tap in the warm club house on the west side of Pistakee Bay all day Sunday.

The wrestling Sequoits continued their unbeaten streak by downing Harvard 29-14 and Lake Forest 38-8 to run the record to 13-0 this season and 23 wins in a row.

Double winners for Antioch were:

Wilford Wells 112, Gary Aerne 120, Rick Nelson 133, Terry Triplett 138, Paul Lulofs 145, Chuck Madsen 165, Chuck Hollocker 180, Mike Ring HW.

Winning against Lake Forest were:

Larry Wells 103 and Don Gaa 154. Outstanding records include: Wilford Wells, 112 15-1; Gary Aerne, 120 14-2; Rick Nelson, 133 13-2; Terry Triplett, 138 12-2; Paul Lulofs, 145 15-1; Mike Ring, HW 13-3.

Conservation Dinner Is Set

A Conservation dinner and panel on ponds is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 1, at the Farm Bureau, Routes 45 and 120 in in Grayslake, according to Russell Gwaltney, chairman of the board of directors of the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The buffet dinner, main course consisting of beef, turkey, and ham, will be served at 6:30 p.m. Tickets should be ordered as soon as possible from the directors, the A.S.C.S. office in Grayslake, or the District Office at 71 South Old Rand Road, Lake Zurich.

The tremendous interest in wildlife and fish ponds in Lake County has prompted the directors to assemble a panel of experts on this conservation practice. These include Donald Adams, office manager of A.S.C.S., Grayslake; Richard Duesterhaus, District Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Lake Zurich; Gregg Tichacek, Fisheries Biologist with the Illinois Department of Conservation; and Harold Alvin, manager of Burr Oak Nursery.

Pond site selection, construction, cost-sharing, fish stocking, plantings, and weed control will be covered.

The moderator will be Ken Fiske of Woodstock, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Natural Resources Service Center.

"America the Beautiful" and natural resources slides, field recordings of bird songs, information on seedlings available from State nurseries, and conservation displays will be exhibited.

Reports on Forestry camp, election of two directors, and a review of conservation accomplishments in Lake County during the past year will be included. No reservations are needed for the panel discussion program starting at 7:30 p.m. and all interested persons are urged to attend.

Icy Streets Make Driving Hazardous

On skiddy winter streets or roadways, drivers throughout Lake County have a chance of winding up in a skid wreck, if they can't stop in time on winter's hazardous streets or highways.

"The chain reaction of multiple accidents too often is caused by cars not equipped with snow tires, studded tires or chains," Jerry Klebe, Executive Director of the Lake County Safety Commission stated.

"Law enforcement agencies and others concerned with the safe, expeditious movement of traffic also get a chain reaction when they observe drivers with snow tires and reinforced tire chains moving steadily on glare ice, while those who do not adequately prepare for winter cause most of our traffic snarls," he said.

Klebe noted that the best tires for winter use are snow or studded tires which give more traction than any other types of tires, according to tests conducted on all types. They are best for stopping in an emergency such as a street intersection or a railroad crossing, usually "death stops" in winter. To point this up, tests conducted by the National Safety Council last winter showed an average braking (stopping) distance of 149 feet from a speed of 20 mph. on glare ice for a passenger car equipped with conventional tires. This is close to the braking distance reported by other agencies for speeds of 60 mph under ideal conditions and on dry pavements.

The tests also indicated that studded tires on rear wheels provided appreciably more stop and go traction on ice, reducing braking distances by about 19 per cent as compared with a 50 per cent reduction using reinforced tire chains.

Studded tires provide about three times the pulling ability of regular tires on ice and chains and chains give more than seven times the pulling ability of regular tires.

"Be on guard," he urged, "when the temperature is hovering at the freezing point. Wet ice at 30 degrees is twice as slippery as ice at zero degrees."

Ni-Gas Sets Records

K. J. Stanton

The highlight of 1968 for Northern Illinois Gas Company was the adding of its one-millionth customer, a milestone that was reached on Nov. 22.

Customer growth, however, was just one area in which the utility continued to set records. New highs were also posted in natural gas sales, dividends and plant investment.

In commenting on NI-Gas becoming a million-customer company, Kenneth J. Stanton, Northern Illinois Gas Company vice-president, said NI-Gas began operating in 1954 with 450,000 customers. Since then more than 30,000 customers have been added each year.

Stanton said 1968 was one of the company's best growth years. "We had a net increase of some 35,000 customers, which was well ahead of the 31,000 added last year." Of the new customers obtained by NI-Gas in 1968 to push it over the million mark, 5,400 were in Northwest Division, Stanton added, bringing the division total to more than 104,000.

In summing up the financial picture, Marvin Chandler, NI-Gas chairman and president, said operating revenues for the 12 months ended Nov. 30, 1968 were up more than six per cent over those of the similar 1967 period. Record dividends of $1.58 a share were paid in 1968 on the company's common stock. Year-end plant investment, he said, will rise to about $825 million.

Despite record revenues, earnings for the 12-month period ended Nov. 30, 1968 dipped to $2.27 per share from $2.47 for the same period a year ago. This was due mostly, the NI-Gas chairman said, to the 10 per cent surtax on federal income taxes imposed during the year, and to warmer-than-normal weather. Results of the company's ammonia manufacturing subsidiary, Apple River Chemical Company, continued to suffer from severely depressed prices in the entire ammonia industry resulting from overcapacity.

In order to keep pace with the growing demand for natural gas, NI-Gas increased its daily purchase of pipeline gas in 1968 by 11 per cent. This boosted its available peakday pipeline supply to almost 1.3 billion cubic feet.

The pipeline supplies, plus gas which the company has in several underground storage areas, now enables the utility to distribute nearly 2.8 billion cubic feet of gas on a peak-day. Chandler said that on winter's coldest days, about one-half of the gas used by NI-Gas' 845,000 heating customers comes from underground storage.

To meet the constantly growing demands for gas in its service territory, NI-Gas estimates its utility construction expenditures in the next five years (1969-73) will be $288 million, the largest five-year figure in its history. In 1968 it spent about $46 million. It expects to spend about $50 million in 1969.

According to Chandler, NI-Gas operates in one of the fastest growing energy markets in the country. In addition, the increasing concern with air pollution, he believes, will further spur the use of clean-burning natural gas.

Northern Illinois Gas Co. serves almost 500 communities in northern and western Illinois, and its subsidiary, Great River Gas Company, serves 17 communities in northeastern Missouri.
